A B Y S S

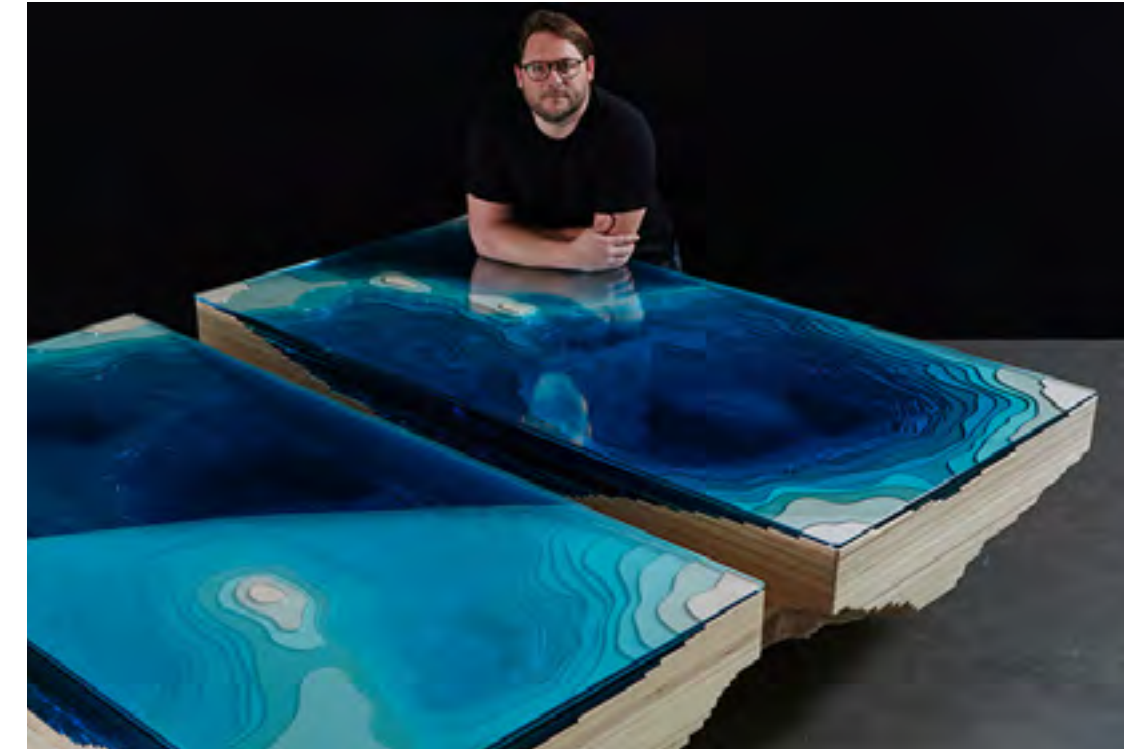

First sketched out in 2012, Abyss is a study of depth and our perception of it.

The design makes use of the interplay between light and layers of natural Birchwood colouration and sculpted blue glass to forge a mesmerising three-dimensional canvas - reminiscent of our own perception of water, and how we observe its colour transform at different depths

Every work is hand made to order by our team of in-house craftspeople to achieve its absorbing, mesmeric effect; inviting the viewer to stare down and to lose one's self in the great unknown.

"The idea is simply trying to recreate depth, we use layers of glass and by layering the glass it changes the color of the light flow through different thicknesses giving different colors of turquoise, blues going down all the way to almost black at the bottom. This is the same effect that happens in the ocean as the water gets deeper colors change, the color of the water is the same at any depth, however, having a layer on top of layer affects how the light reacts with the water and how the impression of depth is changed."

ABYSS HORIZON COFFEE TABLE, 2023 EDITION

Limited edition of 25 pieces

A study of depth and our perception of it, the Abyss Horizon makes use of the interplay between light and layers of the natural Birchwood colouration and sculpted blue glass to forge a mesmerising three-dimensional canvas – reminiscent of our own perception of water, and how we observe its colour transform at different depths

The perceived change in colour, becomes the element that gives true meaning to the piece, conjuring up ideas of a great oceanic topography, and transforming the flowing design into an expressive object.

For the 2023 edition, three curved legs support a dramatic, contoured base section that appears to collapse downwards into the floor. The physical space around the edges of the table focuses the senses to enhance our view of a great, floating Abyss, with a colossal sinkhole at its centre.

The first edition of this piece was exclusively commissioned by Gallery COLLECTIONAL in Dubai for the 'Beyond Nature' exhibition.

MONUMENT VALLEY

Limited edition of 25

Duffy London casts an eye across the American West with the new Monument Valley Table. A series of majestic, contoured forms rises up from the ground, fusing together into a singular, flat-topped sculpted stone piece.

A uniquely modern table design. A visual tribute to rich desert landscapes; marrying together contemporary design with luxurious Italian marble to create an enthralling new centerpiece for the living space.

An evocative, almost dreamlike reimagining of the desert landscape. A piece that recalls the iconic sandstone butte formations of the American mid-West, as if seen inverted in some great, shimmering desert mirage.

"We wanted to create an engaging piece that captures the imagination and triggers a welcome sense of nostalgia for the great outdoors."

CIVILIZATION TABLE

Limited edition of 11

Civilization is a series of uniquely hand-carved marble coffee and dining tables, based on ancient Temples and Monuments hewn from their surrounding landscapes. This series pays homage to their great artistry, to create pieces that will last for the civilisations that come long after us.

Each table is made bespoke to order from several types of coloured marble. The stone is hand-selected for every commission, and then sculpted using traditional tools and techniques; an enduring tribute to the original historic Wonders, and a reminder of the power of sculpture as an art form.

"This was the perfect subject matter as these ancient monuments had long been fascinating to me. I then thought of Petra in Jordan and the Kailasa Temple in India. The ancient masters who designed and carved these most impressive pieces are impossible to improve upon, and so we have simply reinterpreted their genius to make this series of pieces".

A series of gravity-defying, toppling monolithic structures appear frozen in time, as if locked in a permanent state of impending collapse.

duffy london 3D prints free-flowing 'dune' table using black quartz sand

Duffy London's 3D-printed 'Dune' coffee table

Inspired by the wave-like patterns of sweeping sand dunes, the table is brought to life in a rough black or natural sand textured finish, paired with a thick glass tabletop to give a sense of grandeur to the final piece. For designer and founder Christopher Duffy, discovering this brand new premium material was incredibly inspiring as 'the very touch and feel, not to mention the surprising weightiness of this medium is similar in some of its qualities to marble.'

With many of the free-flowing twists and distortions of the table base proving difficult to achieve in other manufacturing processes, he and the design team required a premium material and manufacturing process that could match the artistic, concept-driven designs.
